If you have been an AppSense® or RES® customer, it's easy to feel left behind. In just one year AppSense and RES were purchased by a company that itself was renamed three times – LANDESK®/ HEAT Software®, and now Ivanti®. In fact, it may be difficult for you to find anyone from the former AppSense or RES organizations to help you with support issues, buy expanded licenses, or even return your phone call.

Liquidware has helped numerous customers get out from under their commitment to AppSense, RES and Ivanti. Whether you originally purchased the solutions for User Environment Management, Application Control, Privilege Management, or Monitoring, Liquidware has you covered. We've even hired some of the former software engineers from the original AppSense and RES organizations to help make the switch easy!

Here are just some of the reasons that you may want to make the switch to Liquidware™ ProfileUnity™ or the entire Liquidware™ Essentials™ suite:

- ProfileUnity NEVER locks user profiles into a proprietary data storage format
- ProfileUnity is built by former desktop administrators for desktop administrators
- ProfileUnity features go toe-to-toe with Ivanti Environment Manager
- ProfileUnity INCLUDES Application Rights Management features, such as Application Restrictions and Privilege Elevation
- ProfileUnity has innovative features not found in AppSense/Ivanti, such as ProfileDisk™ for Microsoft® Office 365™
